

Free virtual financial coaching available to help with COVID-19 hardships

If you are facing financial challenges amid COVID-19, it can be overwhelming to figure out which bills to pay first and where to go for assistance with rent, groceries, and other household needs. During this time of uncertainty, the Wells Fargo Foundation is supporting national nonprofits in expanding free virtual financial coaching services to anyone facing financial hardships nationwide.

Association for Financial Counseling and Planning Education®:

Sign up to meet virtually with a certified financial coach or counselor for free at yellowribbonnetwork.org/afcpecovid19.

Cities for Financial Empowerment Fund: Visit fecpublic.org/about for cities offering bilingual financial counseling as a free public service.

National Disability Institute: Visit the Financial Resilience Center \(nationaldisabilityinstitute.org/financial-resilience-center\) for accessible financial health resources and to sign-up for free financial coaching.

National Foundation for Credit Counseling: For free assistance managing creditors or debt, call 1-844-865-1971 or visit the nfcc.org/locator/ to connect with a bilingual financial counselor.

To get a handle on your finances, individuals and families can reach out to one or more nonprofits to assess whether the assistance offered is right for their specific needs.

Wells Fargo responds to COVID-19

As part of a series of comprehensive actions that Wells Fargo is taking to assist people and communities, we are donating $175 million to help address public health needs, small business, housing, and financial stability challenges. Visit Wells Fargo Stories \(stories.wf.com\) to learn more.

Struggling with financial uncertainty? You don't have to navigate these waters alone.

Seek free expert help

Six ways nonprofit financial coaches and counselors can help:

1. Finding local resources for food, clothing, shelter and other needs
2. Creating a household budget to maximize current funds and prepare for future emergencies
3. Prioritizing bills and expenses to cover daily necessities and plan for the future
4. Applying for unemployment benefits, SNAP benefits, and other financial recovery resources
5. Opening bank accounts and using digital tools to manage money and pay bills remotely
6. Building and protecting credit, including options for managing debt